Reflecting on his challenging personal journey, Global Ambassador Dan Catto reveals the most impactful lessons he's learned over the years. He not only shares insights on how to build a successful business and the mindset he employed to overcome adversity, but also gives you strategies to help inspire and empower your personal growth.

Key Takeaways

- Never take for granted what you have. Recognize and leverage all that NHT Global has to offer – from the incredible products and business opportunity to the solid leadership team and 20-year company history.
- What is your vision for yourself?
Decide where you want to be in 5 years, 10 years, etc.
- What is your plan for the next 30 days, 60 days, 90 days?
Map it out and start scheduling calls, demonstrations, and meetings. Below are some examples to include in your 30-60-90 day action plan:
 - 1 Commit to sharing the NHT Global products or opportunity with at least 3 people per day. Your day is not finished until you've reached your 3-person quota for that day.
 - 2 Take advantage of sharing in every situation possible! One-on-one's, texting, phone calls, social media, etc.
 - 3 Start filling up your calendar! Remember that an empty calendar = empty business.
 - 4 Stay in the zone for 90 days. You can radically change your business in 90 days, but only if you truly commit.

“The key here is YOU. What will you do with what you've got?”

“We worked seven days a week, 26 hours a day. And after 90 days...what did we do? We came up for air, we reloaded, and we went right back at it again.”

“Thoughts determine what you want. Action determines what you get.”

When Toronto native Dan Catto was first introduced to the network marketing industry, it was a “blessing in disguise.” In 1988, he was living with his parents and struggling to find his way financially.
